and one elseve of Mr. Lovejoy are still living.

He was a man of the people, a noble, great bearted man with the warmest "sympathies for the poor and the oppressed of all classes, and se full of apparent vitality that his friends could, but predict for him a long life. They could but anticipate much further aid from his wisdom and patriotism in the national councils. To a human view it appears sad that new, when the country is so well on its way toward the attainment of that universal liberty for which he toiled all his life, that he could not be spared to see the end of the control of all his labors.

They encountered a projudice, moreover, as foreigness, more hateful and personal than the projudice gainst color in the United States, they had been persuaded to entire the adversarial to the states of t sheet. It began it more than a year ago, and has kept up a constant ristice ever since. The Expected Campaign in Georgis-Ancedote of the Fiftrenth Corps.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

Heysveritz, Als., March St. 1864.

Various causes exist for the present quiet along our front. The transfer of the command of this military division is the least of them. Great and Sherman have been so intended the control and in the field. On Saturday evening hat the Centralla Division of the "Brotherhood of the Footboard" met and reserved, as other divisions at the descriptions and fatered in sustaining the engineers on the Galeon and Chicago Union railroad that the charter and ritual of their Division should be returned to the Grand Division, and they would ignore any connection with the organization with the Capper and connection with the organization of the Illineix Central Railroad merited their fillest. mand from one to the other would have intalved no delay.

The change of communicirs in this field assems to be a most anapielons one. During all of Grant's campaigns, with the exception of the sufficient that shout Calro—be has had one or both of his next subordinate Generals with him. McTherson was with him as ChierEngineer at Fort Henry, Donelson, Shileh, and the siege of Corinth. Since that time be has been with him in all campaigns and batties except Mission Ridge. Sherman was for both of the first of Donelson, and had charge of the forwarding of reinforcements and supplies to the army in the field. Since that time, through all the important and supplies to the army in the field. Since that imathrough all the important and supplies to the army in the field. Since that imathrough all the important and supplies of the Tannessee participates in the coming campaigns of Grant, Sherman has been with him. Thus, in the event, which is not uplikely, that more than one comps of the Army of the Tannessee participates in the coming campaign, Grant with hay as heretofore, both of his favorite Generals, Sherler use be elected, and a convention of ten med, the form each ward, is to be elected to revise and present a new city character. But the contion of the next Legislature.

—A week ago yesterday, elections were held in Kittery, Ellott, and Tork, Maine. Kittery went Union by 226 majority, and Ellott by 60 majority. York is an old democratic streamheld, but the convertebasis were after the siege of Shileh, and the latter, after the siege of defeated, horse, foot, and dragoons. The Union majority for moderator was clerk 28, for selectmen 63, for treasu —The New York Union State Con-meets at Syracuse on the 25th of May General Grant. In riew of the immense in-terests which depend upon the result of the next compaign, it is certainly a good omen that the commander of the Union army is to command to Gen. Brigalise General John M. Core, who was wounded at the buttle of Missian Ridge, returned on Frishey and reported for duty. He is still suffering from his wound, but thinks that he is able to assume a command Col. Galviel Benek, of the 18th Wisconsin, originally of the 9d Wisconsin, has resigned on serio three years, with credit to himself and his State.

The restroad from Nashville, via Decayer. showed the other cities how the thing could be done.

[27] Gov. Gilmore of New Hampshire has severe a proclamation stating that the deficiency under the call for 300,000 men is 650 men. There was an excess of 291 men ander the 500,000 call, and these are credited to the State, as well as the re-emissive veterans, numbering 1,007 men. The new requirement being for 4,606, leaves 050 more to make as chore stated. Gov. 2, calls upon the people to fill up the quote at once, and to unite in reiterating the statement "that there shall never be another draft in the old Granite State." Prom Our Own Correspondent.]

GEAST AND THE POTOMAG ARKT.

There is now but little doubt that General Grant will make the advance on Richmond with two, it not three, heavy columns, one by way of the present, or Gordouville route, one by way of the Peninsula, or James River route, and the third by way of Suffolk. A camp for Gen. Burnside's coips is already prepared at Annapolis, Maryland. This corps, which, will be a large one, is supposed to be intended for the Suffolk route, while Hancock's will take the James River. General Grant believes in moving in heavy columns which will break those of the enemy by their weight at a particular point. At was thus the broke, the enemy's center at Chetanooga and compelled him to beat a precipitate retreat, leaving a large portion of his artiller; in our hands. A ramor prevailed among the cop perheads in this city and New York yesterday and to day that Gen. Grant would give the command of the Potomac urmy to Gen. McClellan, but if guess it is morly a rumor. The same class of fellows are predicted that Grant will find Lee and his army a very difficult deneral and troops from those he has met at the West, and that the of the would return if depots were established to receive them at Detroit, Buffalo, Ogdensburg, and other points on the lise, centimendation of Halleck. This was the first advancement of each for service in the field. Their enbesquent promotions have all been made upon the recommendations of General Grant.
